Cookie Policy

Our site uses cookies to distinguish you from other users of our site. This helps us to provide you with a good experience when you browse our site and also allows us to improve our site.

A cookie is a small file of letters and numbers that we store on your browser or the hard drive of your device if you agree. Cookies contain information that is transferred to your computer's hard drive or mobile device to store and sometimes track information about you.

USE OF COOKIES

TYPES OF COOKIES

We use cookies to track your activity to help ensure you get the smoothest possible experience when visiting our website but the information does not usually identify you directly. We may use the following types of cookies:

- Strictly necessary cookies: these are cookies that are required for the operation of our site. They include, for example, cookies that enable you to log into secure areas of our site.
- Analytical or performance cookies: these types of cookies allow us to recognise and count the number of visitors and to see how visitors move around our site when they are using it. This helps us to improve the way our site works, for example, by ensuring that users are finding what they are looking for easily.
- Targeting cookies: these cookies record your visit to our site, the pages you have visited and the links you have followed. We will use this information to make our site and the advertising displayed on it more relevant to your interests.

Generally, the strictly necessary cookies and some performance cookies expire when you close the site: these are known as 'session cookies'. The targeting and some performance cookies will last for a longer period of time: these are known as 'persistent cookies'.

SOCIAL MEDIA PLUG-INS

We may also use social media plug-ins which enable you to share our website content via your social media account(s) or easily share information with others. We have a presence on YouTube, LinkedIn and Twitter, and if you click on any of these icons on our website, you will be taken to our pages or profiles on those platforms. The platforms may then start tracking your behaviour using cookies for their own purposes; for example, to better understand your interests so that they can present relevant content or advertising to you. Data about you may also be transmitted to the social media channel even if you do not click on the plug-in.

The social media platforms will provide us with statistical information, which we use to help understand how you and our other users interact with our social media presence. All these platforms provide you with some control over their use of non-essential tracking technology and you can find details of how to exercise this control by reviewing their privacy and cookie notices. We have contractual arrangements in place with the social media channels we use. Please contact us for more information.

Below we describe in further detail the cookies which are installed upon this website.
